University 8 Mai 1945 Guelma

MY THESIS IN 180 SECONDS

COMPETITION

This competition, concern doctoral students from the University of 8 Mai 1945 of Guelma, Algeria. It involves their research topic in simple terms to a diverse audience. The three-minute presentation should be clear, concise and convincing about the research project. Participants will have three minutes to present his or her research to a multidisciplinary jury made up of researchers and non-researchers.

The challenge: make your thesis topic easily understandable in clear, concise and convincing in Arabic, French or English - and with the help of only one slide.

My thesis in 180 seconds competition aims to promote communication across research disciplines and help young academics develop skills to effectively share their work with a broad audience. It is a great way to encourage scientists to translate their work for public consumption and also great training for young researchers.

Prizes will be awarded to the top three presentations according to the criteria in the official rules.